

Press Release: Crawfish Eating Contest

Come and show your crawfish eating talents on Saturday, May 1, 2010, as Gator 99.5 and Contraband Days, will once again have the Crawfish Eating contest at 3:00 p.m. as part of the Contraband Days family fun. Crawfish donated by Zydeco Crawfish.

Both Native and Naturalized Cajuns are invited to compete for bragging rights as the fastest at peeling and eating person to eat three pounds of boiled Louisiana crawfish -- all as a crowd of spectators cheer you on. Contestants compete in timed heats with the three fastest times receiving trophies, prizes, and bragging rights.

Contestants must eat all of their crawfish completely. Race officials will carefully scrutinize contestants' leftovers for any uneaten crawfish tails. A two-second penalty is assessed for each uneaten tail.

Think you have what it takes to be King or Queen of the Crawfish eaters? Listen to Todd Stone at Gator 99.5 to enter the contest - you will be competing with the Jean Lafitte and his Ms. Contraband Days Queen, area dignitary's, media personalities, politicians, lawmen, and outlaws for the bragging rights as the fastest eating crawfish person this side of the Pecos!

Stay tuned to Gator 99.5 for contest details and up the minute Contraband Days information.
